SETTLERS' PLANK

SETTLERS' PLANK

OUR MOST POPULAR FLOOR NOW AVAILABLE IN ENGINEERED

We're thrilled to be unveiling a breakthrough in the pairing of antique wood and engineered flooring at Green Build 2009 in Phoenix, AZ. We've added our most popular antique floor, Settlers' Plank, to the World's Most Eco-friendly Engineered Flooring™ line.

"Settlers' Plank is our best selling solid wood floor because it has more personality, more signs of previous life than any other antique wood," says Jered Slusser, wood expert at Pioneer Millworks. "The same character that makes this floor coveted is also what makes it so challenging to use as engineered flooring.

Settlers' Plank celebrates wear marks, knots, saw marks, nail holes and the wood's naturally occurring vagaries creating a warm, relaxed appearance. It is available as Mixed Oak in The World's Most Eco-friendly Engineered Flooring. Other available engineered line species include: FSC certified reclaimed Heart Pine, Ash, Gray Elm, Chestnut and Karri as well as sustainably harvested FSC certified Ash, Birch, Hickory, Walnut, White Oak, Hard Maple and Cherry.

"When you think about the wood's history, you see why it's so prized: these timbers were cut in the late 1800's from trees that probably started to grow in the 1700s. Now, after 100+ years supporting buildings, these timbers and planks begin anew, offering the beauty of tighter growth rings, greater stability and deeper patinas," adds Slusser.

CHARACTER SELECT HEART PINE

98 DAYS UNTIL THANKSGIVING

With fall and its holidays approaching, now is the time to make improvements to your home. One easy way to add value to your home and enhance a room, is to replace old carpet, linoleum, or tile with reclaimed hardwood flooring. Here are a few reasons to consider new floor or paneling now:

5. Kids are back in school making it easier to work on the house during the day.
4. The weather is still decent so you can work outside and bring cut pieces in.
3. Could be a deduction on your 09 taxes, ask your tax expert, we're wood experts.
2. Hardwood floors increase the value of your home.
1. You'll love the way your floor looks during the holidays.

SETTLERS' PLANK AUTUMN WOODS

These recent shots were sent in from Mike, a customer who took on the job of installing his Settlers' Plank Autumn Woods flooring with the assistance of his Wiemeraners. Send us your before and after photos!
