

Rescued Timber Cabins

Batch #111632a & #111632b

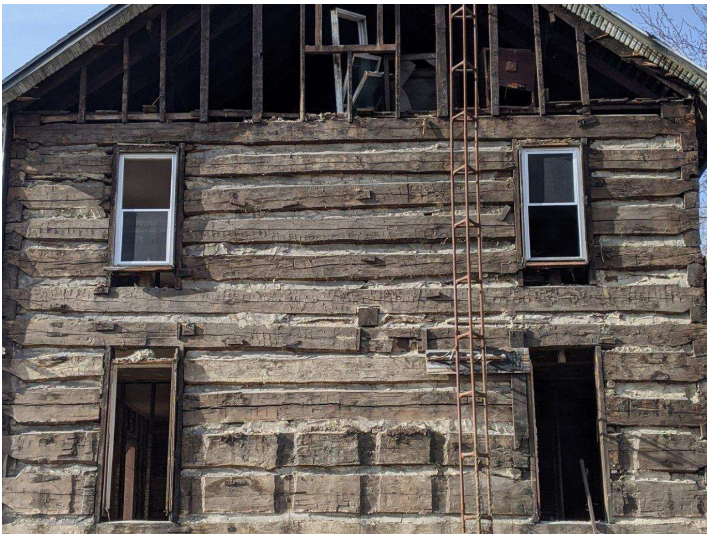

We have two 1800s cabins deconstructed and available. Made of hand-crafted white oak timbers, these log cabins were found in Ohio and feature dovetail timbers at four corners. These are rare finds, and although they could be purchased for the timbers alone, we'd love to find a home with a stubborn craftsman with vision looking to reconstruct them.

Cabin one: This 26x26 home has been carefully cataloged and deconstructed, chronicling each dovetail timber, so that they may be mapped and numbered in the event that the home is desired to be reconstructed in its original form.

Cabin Two: white oak "cabin" home, with a smaller footprint of 18x28. This home has been carefully deconstructed—but the dovetail timbers have not been cataloged or documented. It is possible to recreate the home, but no layout is available.
